

Course Title

Courtroom Testimony Training for National Revenue Center

The National Revenue Center (NRC) Courtroom Testimony training is designed for new NRC personnel. This training will provide the students with an overview of the importance of evidence in the courtroom, as well as courtroom conduct and demeanor. The students will also be given exercises that will provide them with practical experience in testifying in a simulated courtroom setting.

What Will I Learn?

This training will not be delivered in the normal formalized instructional setting. It will begin with the Office of Counsel delivering instructions to the NRC personnel on how to properly conduct themselves if they are called upon to testify. The students will be briefed on what they can expect when they enter the courtroom, how they are expected to interact when questioned by the attorneys, and what their roles and responsibilities are in delivering their testimony. Additionally, all of the NRC employees will be issued scenarios or exercises in advance of class. They will be required to review the various scenarios and be prepared to discuss them. Additionally, the scenarios will be used in the actual courtroom testimony itself. All students will be called upon to testify in an actual courtroom setting.
